

BRIAN HICKS, HYDROLOGIST

Borehole Camera Operation

The borehole camera has primarily been used for AML examinations of mine shafts and subsiding underground mine works. While investigation of water-supply wells is technically feasible, it would generally require the well owner to remove the pump and piping. Careful equipment cleaning and handling is needed to avoid contaminating water in the wellbore.

Equipment:

Borehole Camera Fact Sheet

PowerPoint Presentation:

2018 Roadshow Presentation